Lieben Gruß

I The Reason to support MISEREOR.

I Lucy D'souza-Krone, born and brought up in India, I can talk of Misereors support to my birthland - India.

Many Institutions, specially women's work has been supported by Misereor. I myself was supported by Misereor to complete my Painting Courses at the Indian School of Art for Peace, (INSCAPE) Bangalore.

In India the situation of Women has been very much in need of help, specially in the lower, poor class women.

In India and other developing countries Misereor supports off all kinds of projects for the good of humankind, for example water, food education, natural disaster to come out of the pitiable situation.

Misereor also makes a contact with people from other countries and cultures. This contact is shared in Germany and Europe. This enriches both the countries, so many people can learn from each other personally and on the Community level. Misereor make it possible.

Thus supporting Misereor's work is a noble effort.

II - ALL BLESSING + GRACE For your Pilgrimage;
My dear-dear friends who walk with the Hunger Tuch, day and Night in the cold rainy, snow, windy time, from Trier to München, I pray
for you and wish you Gods special care, warmth and Protection as you carry the message of Love, Joy and Peace. It is Prayer itself to walk with the Hunger Tuch. May each one of you who take part in the Pilgrimage be Blessed in everyway. Those people, whom you will meet may be touched by Gods Love, Care, Compassion and Healing through You all.

I myself, was present for a short walk in 1990 and I am aware what it means to walk in the cold wet dark time. May You all be held in Gods Hand, and have all Courage, this is my wish and prayer for You.

May God be with you during these days and ALWAYS all through your life, so that the Love you experience may flow to the others
wherever you ARE, to your family, your friends
to your community and to the Country.

May You be the Light warmth and healing for one another wherever you are.

All Blessings to You

With my love,

Lucy D'souza-Krone.
